OAKLAND PAVING GRAFT CHARGED

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

We nominate to our hall of fame, one Jack Barry, assistant fire chief and secretary of the Richmond Kiwanis club.

Besides getting up to answer fire alarms at all hours in the morning when all good citizens except newspaper men are sound asleep, Jack edits, sets type, prints and sweeps out the office of the weekly Kiwanis bulletin.

The "makeup" of Jack's sheet isn't so hot, but his material sometimes is what is known in polite New York society among the Who's Who, as a kick in the neck.

But for some reason Jack has been picking on Clifford C. Anglin.

Hardly a week goes by that Jack doesn't bring in some wise crack about Cliff's oratorical accomplishments.

And then again, there's Herbie Blake, whom Jack takes a swat at every chance he gets.

Now, if we were editor of that sheet we know what we would do.

The first persons we would find a wise crack about would be a certain principal of a certain Richmond Junior high school who so far forgot his dignity as to make a wise crack about alleged yellow journalism when we were introduced at a recent meeting of the club.

And another person we would find a wise crack about would be Ted Madsen who, instead of being democratic with the rest of the gang, orders ham and eggs at luncheon. Fine time for one to eat one's breakfast.

Then, the next person we would take to task would be Hall Sanders, who speaks Italian like a native—of Potunk Center, Iowa.

And then, we'd make some remark about Bill Smiley, suggesting that he buy a watch that will keep good time.

Of course, Jack, these are only suggestions. You can take 'em or leave 'em. There is no cover charge.

OFFICIAL OF OAKLAND NAMED

OAKLAND, Jan. 29.—That an affidavit charging Commissioner William H. Parker solicited money from a paving contracting firm, is in the hands of district attorney Earl Warren, was revealed here today.

Warren declared that the affidavit will be the basis of a searching investigation by the county grand jury when it begins investigating the Oakland paving tangle next week.

The affidavit was made and sworn to by Ernest Quincy Norman, former partner in the paving contracting firm of Norman and Garbutt, it was said. It is alleged to recite how the firm had a subcontract from Fred G. Haase of the American Vibrolithic corporation to solicit paving contracts at a certain price.

Norman recited in the affidavit, officials say, how he approached Commissioner Parker to ask for paving work and was told that no Oakland streets would be laid by the vibrolithic method because "Haase refused to play ball" and Parker was "afraid to deal with him." Later, the affidavit recites, Parker advised Norman that if he could get Haase out of the picture and obtain an assignment to Haase's contract, they could come to terms.

The affidavit declares that Haase gave Norman a pretended assignment which he displayed to Parker. The latter then said that he was anxious for his secretary, R. G. Lamberson, to make money and that to get city contracts, Norman would have to pay on fourth of one per cent per square foot of paving laid to Lamberson and a like amount to Parker, Norman declares. Norman also declared that he, Haase, and Garbutt attended a meeting at which Lamberson asked if they were willing to meet Parker's terms.

Norman declared that illness prevented him from taking an active part in the firm's affairs, but that he knows that thereafter several of the streets which had been solicited by the firm were laid with vibrolithic pavement and that Garbutt "was making the necessary payments to the said commissioner and his secretary."

Warren declared that he will summon Garbutt, Haase and Norman to testify before the county grand jury.

GAS PRICE QUIZ HALTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—The government investigation of western oil companies for alleged gasoline price fixing has been abandoned, it was announced today.

Instead of proceeding criminally against the officers of the companies, the department now plans to file civil suits, according to A. J. Law, special assistant to the United States Attorney General.

A comprehensive conspiracy suit in equity will be instituted within the next week, Law said. Its purpose will be to enjoin all alleged unlawful price fixing practices which may be involved.

The investigation was started a week ago in an effort to discover whether or not the Sherman anti-trust law was being violated.

YOUTH OF 15 CONFESSES TO THEFT OF $200

Yesterday he was the most popular member of his class at the Richmond Union high school. But the friends who received his lavish contributions yesterday will look for him in vain today—unless by chance they should visit the Detention Home at Martinez. Yesterday he was met with a smile and welcome wherever he went and did not long for companionship. Last night it was different. The walls of a Richmond police station cell were his only audience.

His lavish spending had been cut short. Shorn of the where-withal which made him a hero among his friends yesterday the 15 year old youth today awaits the decision of T. A. Boyer, county probation officer.

Parents are trying to work out a way to repay $50 to a family friend. The cost of the bank of the youth. His ventures included a trip to Oakland, purchase of a wrist watch, sweater and numerous trinkets in which only a boy of 15 shows an interest.

All his expenditures, the boy admitted to police last night were covered by a bankroll of $200. The roll was taken from a desk in the home of John Fiorini, 28, Pacific street. Fiorini is a bachelor and lives in the house by himself. When he is at work the house is vacant.

Last night Fiorini returned and found $200 missing from his desk. The drawer of the desk had been pried open with a sharp instrument. Police were called and investigated.

An investigating officer happened to overhear a chance remark by one of the acquaintances of the boy regarding his apparent unlimited supply of cash. The youth was questioned and admitted the theft to police. He said that he had spent $50 of the stolen money. The remainder, $150, was recovered by police.

The youth had opened a savings account in a local bank with it.

Hitrun Driver Suspect Arrested Here

TAKEN NEAR SCENE OF CRASH

Captured within five blocks of the scene of a hit and run accident last night, George P. Donaldson, Filbert street, is being held in the city jail on a hit-run charge in lieu of $500 bail set by Police Judge C. A. Odell.

The warrant against Donaldson was sworn to by Joe Arruda, of San Pablo, who was struck when Donaldson's car plowed into the parked car of Arruda, according to police reports. Donaldson received several cuts on the face and hands and was treated at the Abbott Emergency hospital by Dr. U. S. Abbott. He was later removed to the city jail.

Arruda was struck on the left hip and thrown to the pavement and severely bruised and shaken up. He did not require medical attention.

According to Arruda, he had stopped his car on Pullman avenue, just north of Cutting boulevard at an early hour last night to change a tire. Arruda had stepped to the rear of his car to remove his spare tire when his wife, standing on the sidewalk, saw an approaching car and shouted to him to jump. Arruda jumped but was struck by the machine, police reported. The car backed away from the wreck and then sped on toward Macdonald avenue.

Mrs. Arruda, after ascertaining that her husband was not seriously injured, ran to a telephone and reported the number of the machine which had struck their car. A police cordon was immediately spread and a few minutes later Sgt. John Kinstry spotted the Donaldson car at Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue.

Donaldson, according to police, admitted that he had figured in the crash and drove on because he was "afraid to stop." The front end of the Donaldson car was badly damaged and the wind shield was shattered. Donaldson's left hand had been cut by flying glass and four stitches were required to close one of the wounds. The rear end of the Arruda car was badly damaged by the impact.

CHAIN STORE ROBBERY FAILS

OAKLAND, Jan. 29.—With all the characteristics of a hardened criminal a 14 year old pasty faced youth, yesterday attempted to hold up an Oakland chain store.

Only the heroism of Miss Helen Horstkotter, 18, year old clerk, frustrated the robbery.

The "baby bandit" entered the store and asked Miss Horstkotter for some greens.

When the young girl leaned over to obtain the greens, the youth with a vicious blow from his revolver, felled the girl.

In falling, Miss Horstkotter grappled with the embryo bandit, and attempted to hold him. The youth however, eluded her grasp and escaped to a waiting automobile.

With blood streaming from a deep gash in her head, Miss Horstkotter ran screaming to the sidewalk, where her cries for help brought the police. She was taken to the Highland hospital where her wound was dressed.

Later this evening, Oakland police had a clue to the identification of the bandit and went to the home of a 14 year old boy. This boy, according to police, owns a pistol, and answers the general description of the bandit.

While talking to the boy's guardian, the lad, who was in the next room, overheard the conversation, and escaped through a window.

Police entered the room just in time to see him make his escape.

Right Is Might

3 BANDITS GET $60 HERE

Three armed bandits last night entered a local laundry, bound the proprietor with clothes line wire, after threatening his life with revolvers, rifled the place and escaped with $60 in cash and a watch and made their escape.

Yune Kong, operator of a laundry at 327 Second street, reported to police last night three well dressed young Chinese men entered his laundry and asked him if he would be interested in attending a Chinese show. When Kong refused the bandits drew guns and declared that they would put on a show of their own.

Obtaining a piece of wire clothes line the three men bound their victim's hands and feet and then tied him to a bedpost. They then leisurely rifled the place, searching all clothing and upsetting the bed and other furniture, ransacking every nook and cranny of the place.

Kong managed to free himself from his hands and reported the theft to police. The victims wrists and ankles were severely cut and bruised by the wire which had been twisted tight by the bandits.

Although Kong stated that he had never seen the men before he said that all spoke the Canton dialect with which he was familiar. Police were without clues last night other than the description given by the laundryman.

WET HEARINGS FEBRUARY 12

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 UP.—The prohibition situation was thrown wide open today by Chairman George Scott Graham of the house judiciary committee. He announced that hearings would be held on the numerous proposed wet constitutional amendments starting Feb. 12. All those wishing to testify will be heard Graham said.

After these hearings the Dyer sub-committee will hold hearings on proposals on modification of the present strict enforcement laws. Many of these would allow light wines and beer or set up state dispensary commissions.

Graham's committee has been sitting on the lid of all such proposals since prohibition went into effect. The committee is regarded as dry, while Graham is regarded as wet.

The action which Graham took on his own initiative as chairman of the committee insures a bureau airing on board general lines.

JAPAN ASKS INCREASES IN CRUISERS

LONDON, Jan. 29.—UP.—Japan's demand for seven tensus as much cruiser strength as that of the United States forged to the front in the naval disarmament discussion today as the five powers prepared for a full meeting of the delegations in St. James' palace Thursday.

J. Ramsey Macdonald conferred with Regio Wakatsuki of Japan and later with Secretary of State Stimson and Senator Reed of the United States delegation presumably in connection with the Japanese demands.

It was understood Britain was reluctant to concede to the demand due to opposition of Australia. Such a ratio would give Japan about four fifths of England's strength in the 10,000 ton cruiser class, causing some alarm on the island continent.

WOMAN DENIES KILLING DEPUTY

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Jan. 29.—UP.—Irene Schroeder, held here under charges of murdering State Trooper Brady Paul, screamed repeated denials through the bars of her cell today that she or her two men companions fired the shot that caused the death of Deputy Sheriff Lee Wright of Arizona.

Wright died of gunshot wounds received in a gun battle with Mrs. Schroeder, Glen Dague, her sweetheart and Joe Wells, Oklahoma convict, where the three were captured.

"We didn't shoot anyone in Pennsylvania, Arizona, or anywhere," the woman cried today. "We only fired out of the side of the car at them when they opened fire on us."

De Rivera To Oppose Cabinet

MADRID, Jan. 29.—UP.—As General Damazo Berenguer moved cautiously tonight to form a cabinet capable of restoring normal government in Spain, Primo De Rivera, the man he succeeds as premier, announced he would lead the patriotic union in opposition to the government. He said he believed he still had an important following despite his forced resignation yesterday and indicated he would demonstrate it at the polls at the first chance. He made no mention of any desire to start a new revolution.

$5000 OFFERED IN DOPE DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—That a woman was offered $5000 if she would lead a chief witness against "Black Tony" Parmagnini into a gangster death trap was revealed here today by federal officials when Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure heard applications for bail for "Black Tony" and his lieutenant, Willie Levin, convicted dope ring leaders.

The death plot was revealed by Lonnie McIntosh, federal narcotic chief at Sacramento when he was called to the stand by United States Attorney George J. Hatfield.

McIntosh declared that Josephine Waters, a friend of Danny Farrell, the government star witness had told him a man had offered her $5000 if she would "put Farrell on the spot."

The man called himself "Black Tony" Parmagnini, McIntosh said the woman declared.

When the girl refused the offer, the witness said, the man urged her to influence Farrell's testimony.

Later, he testified, the girl saw Parmagnini in the federal building here and declared he was not the man who had made her the offer.

Harry V. Williamson, chief of the federal narcotic bureau here, testified that on Dec. 28 Levin approached him, declaring that he was going to "get" him. He also declared that Parmagnini approached him and called him names.

This Suspicious Older Generation

SOMETIMES it must seem to any sympathetic woman that the worst thing about the younger generation is that sneering section of elders which prides and preaches about it. They obviously believe the worst and they appear to hope for the worst. While not so vicious as they were a few years ago, these ultra-suspicious mentors are still heard from indirectly, as in the case of the high school girls and boys against which parents in South Norwalk, Conn., have just protested.

This new higher catechism for the children in junior high school has been conducted under the direction of a Yale professor, and was edited by school Principals. Yet the following four intimate, inquisitive, sex-conscious questions were actually submitted to the pupils:

"Are you fond of the 'petter' and 'necker'?"
"Is a boy justified in breaking with his girl because she refuses to kiss him?"
"What is your opinion of the girl who can be kissed by any boy at all?"
"Do all husbands and wives quarrel all of the time?"

To us, this wholesale peeping into and pawing over the minds of youngsters seems without excuse. Your fathers and mothers who object that much must be set down to the credit of the older generation. But if we know decent girls and boys, those in South Norwalk were more angry and disgusted than their parents with the sex questionnaire.

WE DO know the precise reaction of one thoroughly "nice" girl a bit older, who, in another Connecticut school, a private one, was subjected to a set of would-be-fraternal interrogations to her "reaction" toward boys, "dates" and sex appeal. She is no Victorian violet, but an attractive, modern, sane youngster, who reads candid novels and knows her way about in the social life of her generation. But she was frankly shocked and fierily in revolt against what impressed her as the prurient, insanely suspicious attitude of her catechizing preceptors.

"They asked me about things I had never even thought of!" she stormed. "They're crazy—you simply can't imagine the sort of questions they put. I wouldn't believe anybody could be so suspicious. They don't know what they're talking about—they just talk to hear themselves talk! They make me feel all dirty—and it's because they have such unclean minds themselves!"

What we have called the sneering section of the older generation would perhaps be amazed to know how often it is written down in just this fashion by the youngsters at whose doings it holds up hands of holy horror.

YOUTH'S revolt, if you ask us, is by no means always a revolt against the good, the true and the beautiful, as upheld in the character and conduct of elders. The revolt may be against the harsh worldliness, the cynical hypocrisy, the unclean suspicion of those elders. Youthful rebels may do their rebelling for a cause that is worth while.

How generous, loyal, loving youth may be toward youth, has humorously and vividly in its perception of suspicious age's "stiffness," has just been impressed upon us by a somewhat belated reading of that most charming and original novel of the past generation, Alice Graun Rosman's "Visitors to Home."

It is the tale of four thoroughly modern and as thoroughly "nice" youngsters, whose lives and loves are temporarily messed up by suspicious and stupid elders. Paul marries Helen, and because she hasn't a lot of money, his parents are furious. Yet what sort of parents are they? Bunny, the book's delightful modern girl ("though a bunny, she's no rabbit") sums them up: "Paul's father only thinks of money. He's simply among those absent-minded somebody is discussing how to get a bit more, and Mrs. Mostyn has two less, social importance is hanging on youth. She never ought to have had any children. She hasn't really liked them since they grew up and it got about... One of the young-ids... twenty-five, if she's a day... If she could have married Paul to me she would have been quite pleased and treated him like a sister when she had to meet him anywhere. You know how he always calls her Molly? She made him, and she tried to make me, but I wouldn't. I was too shy," grinned Bunny.

PAUL'S young-old mother goes around saying that Bunny was jilted and blighted—so pleasant for Bunny, as every girl will perceive! Meanwhile, Paul and his wife have got into trouble—no fault of theirs—and Bunny and Hugo conspire successfully to get them out of it, arranging their own happy young love affair in the process.

In these busy days drop-from-the-spoon cookies are the only ones the lady of the house thinks of attempting for luncheon or tea enjoyment. That Tarrytown school principal who will not admit a girl pupil because she disapproves of the "unethical practices" of her parents in a legitimate business field, and because he feels it the duty of schools to raise the business and social ethics of parents as far as possible—evidently translates the Biblical injunction, "Bear ye one another's burdens" into "Mind ye one another's business."

Is Your Skin "Temperamental"?

BY WHICH we mean to say, is your skin dry to-day and oily to-morrow, oily about the nose and dry elsewhere, pory this week and reasonably fine grained the next? A kind of weathervane that shrivels or mottles with the weather, and resembles somewhat the texture of a thimble in May?

Obviously one should not give a flickle skin the same sort of treatment day in and day out, and yet one—meaning nearly every one—does. The same soap-and-water cleansing, or the same cream, the same powder, the same astringent or none at all, consistently.

Fact is that even a thoroughly normal skin benefits by a change of treatment now and then. Using the same old cream day in and day out for years somehow robs the cream of its magic, assuming, of course, that it has magic. How very much more necessary and effective then is variety, when it comes to caring for the changeable skin!

On its oily, pory days the skin of many moods should be washed, with soap and water or a special washing preparation or a cleansing lotion which has astringent properties. Also it should be powdered with a thin dry powder, not a thick and creamy powder. Several of the more famous makers of beauty products have powders specially designed for the dry skin and the oily skin.

Similarly, there should be an abundance of cream used on the skin's dry days, softening soothing lotions too, cream rouge and a powder prepared for the dry skin, a powder that is velvety rather than crisp and dusty textured.

The daily menu and the mental state have their effects rather swiftly on these over-sensitive skins. Digestive disturbances will writhen the pores and cause them to "oil," so also will fits of worry and ill temper, the latter going so far sometimes as to cause the skin to blotch.

Owners of "temperamental" skins will therefore keep a watchful eye upon their dispositions as well as their diet, will strive for serenity of mind as well as simple balanced meals. And their reward shall be a face—not to mention hands—offering only one sort of surprises—lovely ones.

The Farmer's Advice

By Alfalfa Smith

DO YOU know what CO-OPERATION means?
I'll tell you—it means LISTENING.

When the boss begins to speak—listen.
When the minister, priest or deacon begins to talk—listen.
When your child speaks to you—listen attentively.

When the voice of God speaks to you—listen, listen!
When your husband (or wife) speaks—listen.

When you learn to do any one or all of these things, then you will know what CO-OPERATION MEANS.

To Remember on Washday

THE wire clothes line will not rust if you give it a coat of white varnish once or twice a year. Perhaps you will prefer to give it a couple of coats of white enamel, which will answer the same purpose.

If yours is a steel line wipe it with a little kerosene in cold weather to prevent the clothes from sticking to it.

In winter the ordinary clothes line should be wiped with a cloth sprinkled with a mixture of equal parts of baking soda and salt before hanging out the clothes so they will not freeze to the line.

Adding a handful (or more) of salt to the last rinsing water is another precaution against clothes freezing and if you heat the clothes pins well in a pan in the oven then put them into the clothespin bag they will not freeze to the clothes and they will keep your fingers warm while hanging out the clothes.

When in Public Places

The first few spoonfuls of consommé should be eaten with the spoon. The remainder may be taken with the spoon or sipped from the cup, as you prefer.

Whatever ice cream is taken on the spoon should be eaten in one mouthful.

The World's Window

By Pierre Van Paassen

PARIS, January,

in the day of Hendrik Hudson.

Marie Jose's Trouseau

The women of Flanders turned out a marvelous piece of lace for the occasion of the wedding of Princess Marie Jose. Some of the best lace-makers from the villages stayed for weeks at the royal palace at Laeken, a Brussels suburb, to piece together the material for the trousseau. No machines have ever been invented that can rival the hand-made lace of Flanders, and the art remains one of the standbys of the rural community as a means of livelihood. Without stretching the facts, it can even be said that lace making has had its share in lifting the country over its worst depressions. During the war, when everything was topsy-turvy, the men in the army or deported, the women worked at their spools and bobbins and managed to keep the pot boiling. Of course, the German officers quartered in the land were then the best customers. An attempt was even made to transfer some Flemish nuns to Germany and teach German girls the ancient and beautiful craft. The attempt did not succeed. The nuns somehow could not work in strange surroundings. "How can we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?" asked the children of Israel of the invaders who had taken them captive to the rivers of Babylon.

Lenin Redivivus
A new monument to Nicolai Lenin is being erected in Leningrad. It will face the Finland Station. It will, however, not be an ordinary statue of the type that adorns or disgraces so many noble thoroughfares. No, the Bolshevik, forever on the look-out for good propaganda media, will equip the statue with a "perfected" gramophone, an invention of the workman Theodorov, the Russian. Lenin will tell us. The gramophone records or plates are inscribed with the speeches of the great leader. And it is Lenin himself who pronounced them. Lenin's preservation at the best of far-seeing comrades.

When Cupid Is King
Nineteen hundred and thirty is going to be a year of love and divorce, the one being the result of the other. This is the alluring and at the same time disquieting promise given by the successor of the famous clairvoyant, Mme. de Thebes. The prophetess's motto has fallen upon Mme. Fraya. Mme. Fraya is a French woman who lives in a Spanish sort of atmosphere which she has created in her own home, where she sits all day looking into crystals, reading dusty old books, drawing queer geometrical figures and toying with mysterious instruments and symbols of occult vision. Her eyes, she says, have pierced the veil of the yet unknown to ordinary mortals, and have gazed upon such scenes of amorous frenzy as the world has not beheld since the decadent days of Rome and Athens. "Women will be loved in the coming year as they have never been loved before, and they will be deceived as they have never been before," predicts Mme. Fraya. "And the result will be a huge rise in the marriage rate, an epidemic of unfaithfulness, and such an accumulation of divorce suits that the courts will be clogged for several years to come."

Dutch in America
The new American Minister to the Netherlands, Mr. Dickema, has astonished the Holland journalists by revealing a fluent command of their language. Mr. Dickema is from somewhere in Michigan, where there are large Dutch settlements. In these settlements the Dutch language is not even forgotten. Newspapers are even printed in it. It is a fine thing, for the cultivation of the old paternal language alongside English can only tend to enrich the lives of those stalwart Americans. More remarkable than the survival of Dutch in Michigan, where immigration is comparatively recent, is the existence of Dutch-speaking citizens among the descendants of such old families as the Van Rensselaers and Van Tuis, who settled up the river

TELLING THE WORLD

(Covering the London Naval Conference with fountain pen and pencil is the greatest expert of them all, J. Hermann Seidlitz. Mr. Seidlitz needs no radio announcement to the public at large as a naval authority. When Washington crossed the Delaware, Seidlitz was his cousin. When Magellan circumnavigated the globe, Seidlitz was first to call attention to the fact that the Strait of Magellan went from the six to the jack, and a pair of axes, therefore, beat it. Mr. Seidlitz was also the first naval expert to sail over Niagara Falls, going upstream, and he likewise chartered the course of Steve Brodie from Brooklyn Bridge to the East River without running a single obstacle. And this is the same outstanding authority who is interpreting the London Naval Conference for you. Each day he sends a skeleton cable despatch to this office. An autopsy is immediately performed on this skeleton despatch, and it is then buried in the wastebasket. The third of Seidlitz's interpretive articles appears below, and there is no relief in sight.)

INTERPRETING THE NAVAL PARLEY

By J. Herman Seidlitz

LONDON, Jan. 20 (Censored but more to be pitted).—Our naval delegates have only been in London a short time, but they are already learning new principles of defense. To-day when our delegates met they wore tall silk collapsible opera lids, so they would not crush their millinery when they went into a huddle.

This morning the American and Japanese envoys met to discuss their relative naval strengths. England wants America to exceed Japan in battleships on a ratio of 10 to 7, but Japan objects to being beaten by a field goal. They are now trying to fix things up for a return game.

Italy has agreed to put six new olive oil-burning cruisers in the Mediterranean. Mussolini's talking dolls point out that Italy is shaped like a rubber boot, and unless it has an adequate naval defense to protect the instep Italy is liable to be reduced to a dancing slipper.

The Italian Commission has agreed, however, to certain concessions. If America will stop building 16-inch guns Italy will reduce the bore of its navy rations from macaroni to spaghetti.

Secretary Simson is sounding out the other powers to the American gobs from the steeple to second-class passengers, with no tips to the smoking-room stewards.

On the other hand, the Japanese en-

Dawes lighted up his pipe at 4.37 P. M. and the conference broke up in a coughing spell.

AVOID THE THREAT of the weight of age

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence

You men who would keep trim and fit... you women who covet the tantalizing curves of the truly modern figure—when tempted to do yourself too well, light a Lucky instead. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Adults, too, prefer
"NO DOSING" for COLDS

When Vicks introduced the better method of treating colds externally it was especially appreciated by mothers because it avoids "dosing," which so often disturbs children's delicate digestions.

Each year more and more adults, too, have found Vicks equally good for their own colds. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Just rubbed on, Vicks gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled, and, at the same time, acts through the skinlike a plaster.

SOUND, COLOR UNITED FOR NEW EFFECT

Sound and color have been successfully combined on the same narrow strip of motion picture film and the surprisingly successful combination will be seen at the Fox-California theater today and tomorrow in "The Dance of Life," the all talking, all singing, all dancing picture of the over-whelmingly successful stage play, "Burllesque."

The perfected sound and color process has been used to photograph and record a lavish stage revue in "The Dance of Life." The stage and performers appear in natural colors, the brilliant jewels the gorgeous gowns, the dancings choruses and beautiful settings. Eighty dancing girls are used in the production and the sound of their steps and voices are distinctly heard. A 32-piece orchestra and the song of a soloist are packed together on a single bit of celluloid scarcely more than an inch square.

The perfected system of combining sound and color on motion picture film is the work of scientists of the Technicolor corporation, working with sound engineers of the Paramount studios. The use of this process in "The Dance of Life" is the first that has been successful enough to present to the public.

"The Dance of Life" is a story of life, heart and before the foot-lights, is particularly adapted to the use of this medium. In the sequences where color is used, the elaborate stage presentations, that work into the plot of the story, are intensified and vivified by the use of color.

A talking comedy "The Plasterers" is also on the program.

WORKSCARCE IN MOVIES FOR EXTRAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 29—(U.P.)—Lizzie Glutz had better keep on serving waffles in the corn center chop house and Johnny had better stay home and marry the banker's daughter, because the movie business is pretty discouraging to extra players.

The annual report of the Central Casting corporation, through which all the major film studios engage their casual workers, was released tonight. It showed that casting had exactly 67,439 fewer bit jobs to fill in 1929 than in 1927. There were 262,958 placements in 1929, as compared with 330,397 in 1927 and 276,155 in 1928.

Those who were lucky enough to work averaged $9.13 a day as compared with $8.59 in 1927 and $8.94 in 1928. The higher wage paid to dancers brought the average up. Extras earned $2,401,429.31 in 1929.

Registration with the Casting corporation reached a new total of 17,541 persons. Of them, only 329 averaged one day's work for every week in the year.

Only 164 averaged two days work a week. Only 53 had three days work and only 15 worked four days every week.

And—only one person, men and women combined, worked five days and less than five and a half days a week every week during 1929.

Veteran extras received 19,158 of the 262,958 placements in 1929. This was in comparison with 16,755 in 1928 and 23,763 in 1927.

The report commented that the demand for extras who could speak foreign languages often made it necessary to go outside of the registration files.

Colored extras obtained 8,728 placements as compared with 9,116 in 1928.

Children Register
Registration of children during 1929 was 1,679. There were 8,293 placements, or three per cent of the bureau's gross placement of extra workers.

One day's work in the entire year was obtained by 907 children. Only 168 worked a total of two days last year. Three to five days work was obtained by 256. And—only 11 children worked from 40 to 70 days in the entire year.

Two thousand people claimed to be singers. Auditions were given to 1080 people. Of 600 women only 86 were classified as "solo singers." Of 480 men, 56 were classified as "solo singers." Many were listed as group singers.

Foreign Types
The need of foreign types was the great outstanding development on the extra game in 1929. Some of the calls were for:
A newboy, 8 to 12 years, must speak Cockney.
Two Scotch caddy boys, must speak Scotch dialect.
Swiss mountain climbers to yodel.
French chorus girl to speak French.
Russian officer to speak Russian and Chinese.
Sixteen children, French, native.

County Plans Fight Against Auto Tax Cut

A campaign to educate the people of the state against any effort which may be made to abolish the personal tax levy on automobiles is to be launched by the county assessors of the state. The proposed campaign was discussed last week at a meeting in Los Angeles of the County Assessors' association.

County Assessor George Meese stated yesterday that a measure may be placed before the people next November which would abolish the personal property tax on automobiles. In that event, the license fee would be raised to $8. Thus state would gain at the expense of the counties and the loss would have to be made up by higher county taxes, Meese declared.

It is estimated the counties of the state if the measure is adopted would lose $61,000,000 in taxes. In discussing the situation F. V. Veith, chairman of the budget committee of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' association, Meese stated that the assessors would like to see amendment 18 carried at the coming election.

This measure provides for the collection of the personal property tax on automobiles at the time licenses are issued. Collection of such a tax would be immediately turned over to the counties, less five per cent collection charges.

Meese declared that collection of taxes by this manner would increase tax revenues of the county.

born, 3 to 15 years of age, to sing Marseillaise in French.

Extensive Canvass
The casting corporation canvassed clubs, churches and foreign consuls to obtain the necessary people.

On the subject of the falling off in extra placements, the fact that 5,008 casual workers changed their telephone numbers in 1929 might mean something.

HIGH DEBATERS HOLD MEETING

The exponents of the present form of government in the United States won their case over the arguments of supporters of the cabinet government of England in a debate held by members of the Richmond Union high school debating club yesterday. The victors pointed out that a government must be suited to the characteristics of the country, and they stated that the cabinet government blends into English conditions, while it would be utterly out of place in the United States.

The winners of the debate were Betty Jackson and Fred Oshima. The affirmative was supported by Nick Begovich and A. Vincent. The club will hold another debate at next week's meeting on the topic, "Resolved—That public utilities should be municipally owned."

The affirmative debaters will be Lois Hutchinson and Ann Evans. The supporters of the cabinet government will be Ed Owens and Ed Palmer.

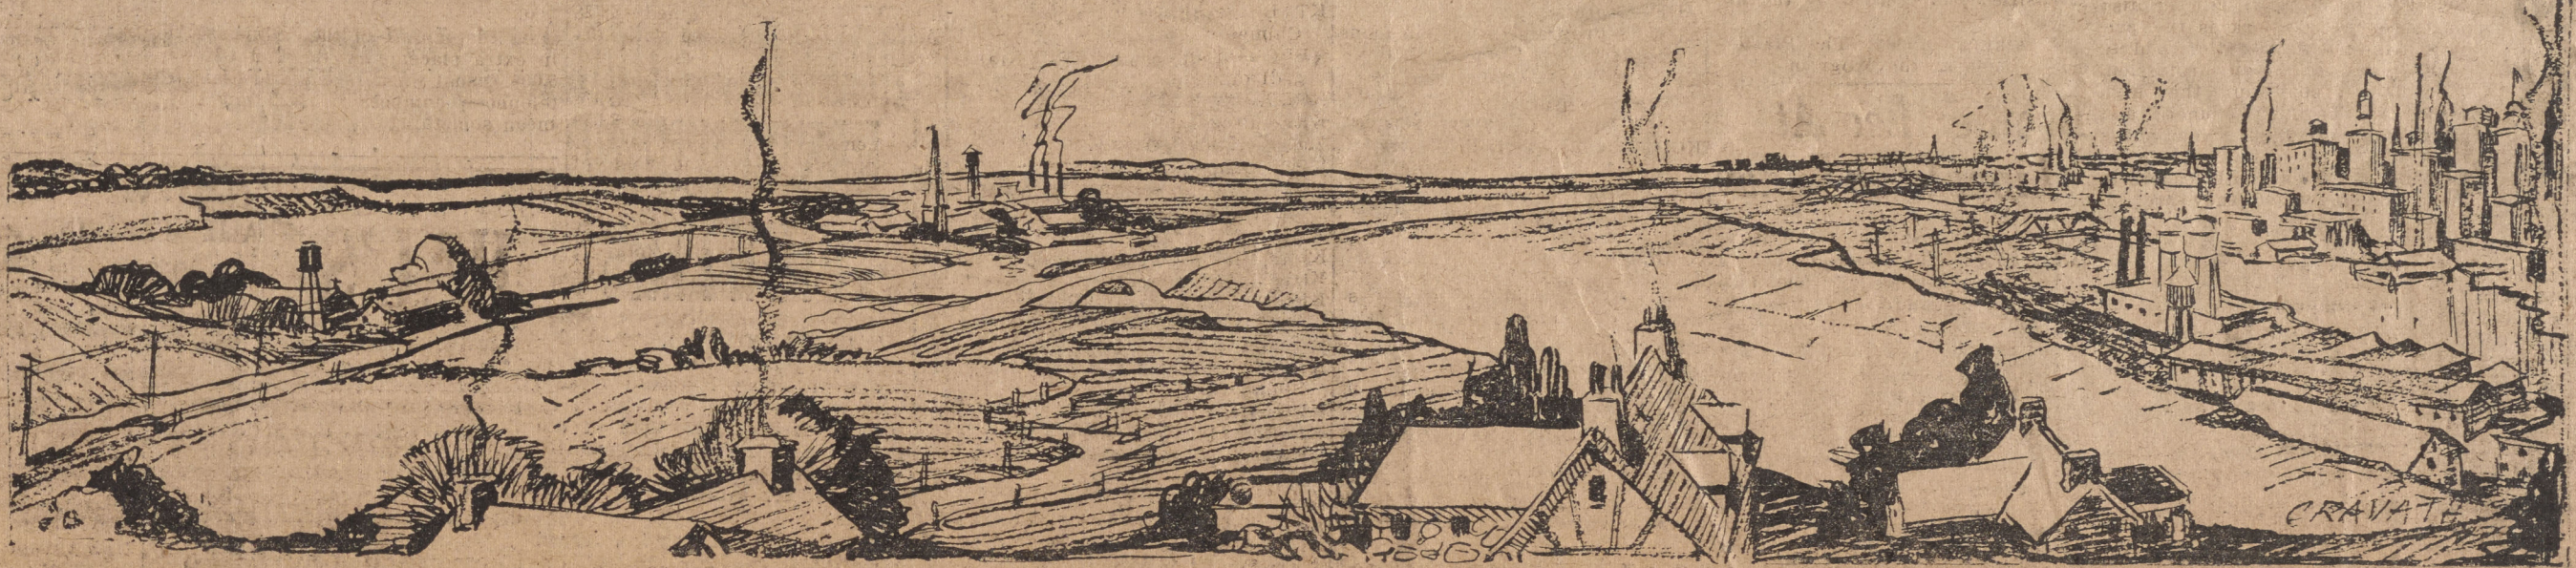

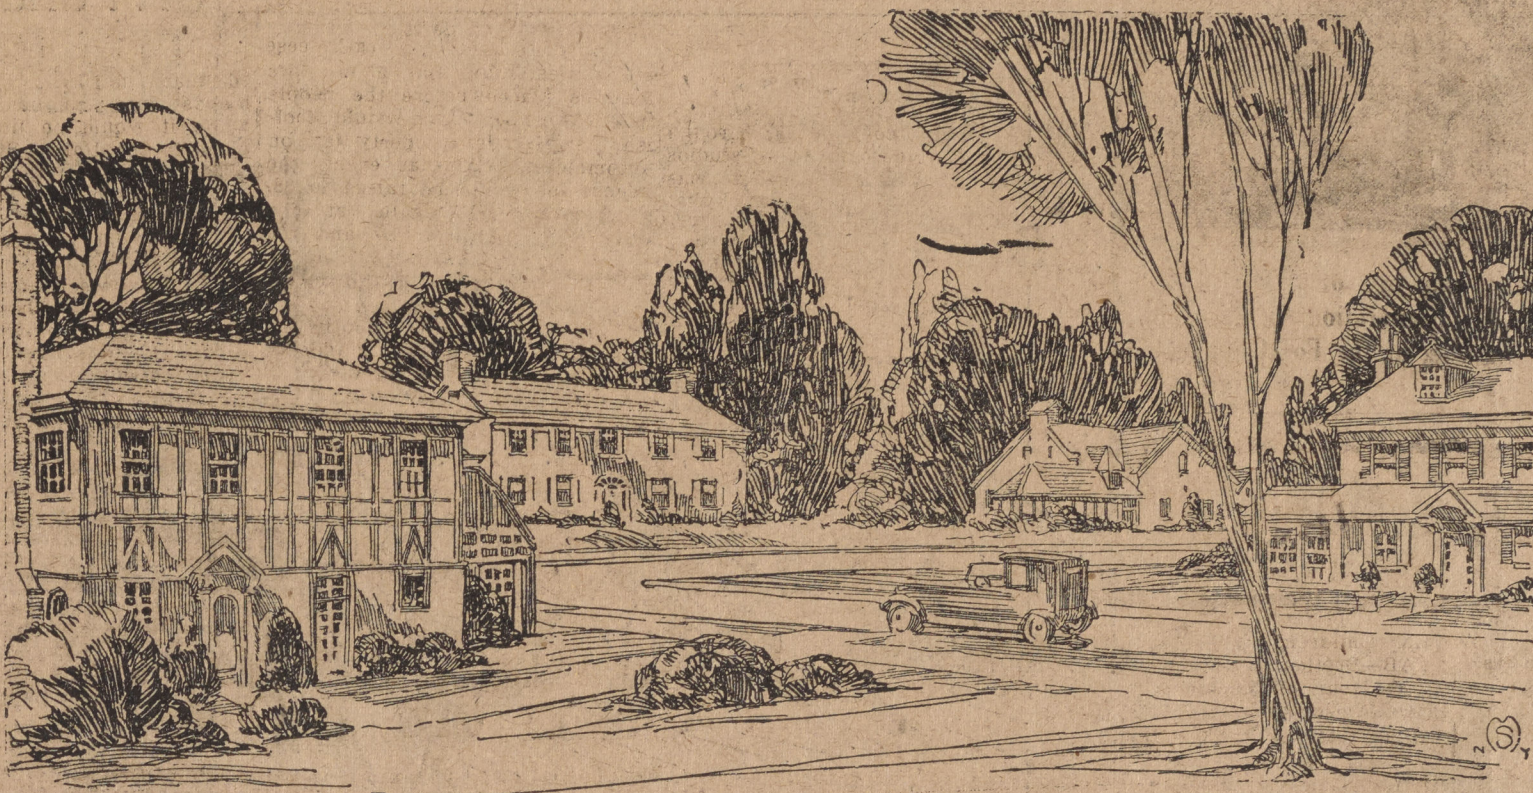

A challenge to debate on the subject of prohibition was issued by Nick Begovich and Fred Oshima at last night's meeting. The challenging team is in favor of prohibition. Their challenge has not yet been accepted.

Plans were laid at last night's meeting for a guest dance to be held during this month. The date has not been set.

BETTER HIGHWAYS FOR RICHMOND!

—109 MILES OF PAVED STREETS—

Fast transportation is the first essential of a modern city.

To have fast transportation the avenues of travel must be in first class condition and planned in such a manner that the public can travel by the shortest possible route between two points.

Richmond is fortunate in having a system of streets which answers the requirements of a modern metropolis. It is true some improvements need to be made in some sections but these improvements are being made as speedily as possible.

Cutting boulevard, Macdonald avenue, Barrett avenue, San Pablo avenue and countless other cross city streets afford fast means of travel from point to point within the city. These cross city streets offer a direct route for travelers who are passing through this city and wish to reach their destination with the least possible delay.

Extension of Tenth street to the Tank Farm hill to tap the state highway to the north and extension of Panhandle boulevard to afford another direct route to Oakland are now being worked out by officials and another few years will see these important highways in use.

San Pablo has recently been widened and the pavement improved. This street carries more traffic than any other street in the state with the exception of one. It is practically the only outlet to the north from the great eastbay region. The paved portion of the street from curb to curb is now 68 feet wide.

Few Richmond citizens realize that there are 194 miles of streets in Richmond. Of these, approximately 109 miles have been paved at an approximate cost of $5,500,000. This figure does not include thousands of dollars spent by the city in upkeep each year.

Richmond's street building and improvement program is well ahead of the home building and development program, and justly so. New citizens will only be induced to build upon streets that offer first class sites for homes. Thousands of such sites are available and with the building expansion program now starting in Richmond, new residents will find an excellent street at their front door before the door is placed on its hinges.

BERKELEY MAY GET I. C. 4. A. FIELD MEET

BERKELEY, Jan. 29.—The Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America—more briefly known as the I. C. 4. A.—will hold its 1932 meet here if a formal invitation extended jointly by the University of California, Stanford University and the University of Southern California is accepted by the association at its annual meeting March 1.

This announcement was made last night at the University of California by W. W. Monahan, the graduate manager of the Associated Students of that institution after an invitation on the part of the three western universities had been tendered to and accepted tentatively by the I. C. 4. A. executive committee.

The meet, if held at Berkeley, will take place about two weeks prior to the track and field events of the Olympic Games at Los Angeles—probably in late June or early July—and will probably also serve as the qualifying meet for collegiate entries in the games.

In East 4 Years

The I. C. 4. A. meets have been held on the Atlantic seaboard for the 53 years the association has existed. The Berkeley meet would be the first ever held either in the west or on the Pacific coast.

The invitation, as presented to the executive committee of the association by Lloyd Georgeson, graduate of the University of California acting as eastern representative of the three western institutions involved, follows:

"The University of California, U. S. C. and Stanford University have asked me to present to you their formal invitation to hold the I. C. 4. A. A. A. championship track and field meet in 1932 at the University of California, Berkeley, California. The above universities guarantee to bear expenses for the visiting teams of $65,000. It is suggested that it will be probably be advisable to hold this meet in the latter part of June or the first part of July. The western universities are very anxious that the eastern members of the I. C. 4. A. A. A. will send a large representative team to the meet and are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to this meet."

To Draw Proposal

The association's committee, after discussing the formal proposal, have agreed to draw up recommendations at their next meeting on Feb. 8 for presenting to the annual meeting of the association on March 1. These recommendations will cover the selection of a permanent site for the meet, the track and field facilities at Berkeley will be comparable in modernity to any in the United States, since the new track and field stadium at Berkeley will have been completed well before the time of the meet.

Would Attract Stars

"By holding the I. C. 4. A. events at Berkeley," Monahan continued, "the northern part of the state will share in the opportunities offered on the Pacific coast during 1932 to see great athletes in action, since the meet—in addition to being the annual championship competition of association members—will probably also serve as the qualifying meet for college athletes who compete in the Olympic Games."

The Atlantic seaboard has been the scene of all of the 53 annual I. C. 4. A. meets held since the championship competition was established in 1878. The first meet was held at Saratoga, N. Y., and during the next five years Mott Haven, N. Y., was the scene. Then Manhattan Field, N. Y., was used for seven years, after which time the meeting alternated between that field and Berkeley Oval, N. Y. In 1904 the scene was shifted to Franklin Field, Philadelphia and since then the meet has alternated between the Philadelphia stadium and Soldier's Field, Cambridge, Mass.

The University of California has competed sixteen times since 1895, and in 1921, 1922 and 1923 took first place in the meets.

HIGH C QUINTET VICTOR OVER ALAMEDA

The Richmond Union high school C quintet gained a 12 to 10 victory over the Alameda high school C cagers last night in the girls' gymnasium of the local high school.

The Richmond lightweights displayed surprising speed during the first half of last night's battle, but seemed to tire before the hard attack of the Alamedans during the last two periods. During the last few minutes of the last quarter, the local boys barely managed to keep a two point margin.

Although not in the Alameda County Athletic League with their big brothers, the varsity and B athletes, the C lightweights are practicing long and hard in anticipation of their promotion to the B outfit next season. They are being coached by "Rusty" Lane, veteran forward of the Richmond Union high school varsity.

The Richmond boys who saw action in last night's clash with Alameda were: Jackson, 3; Hurley, 2; forwards; G. Corvenka, 2; center; C. Corvenka, 1; Oishi, 1; guards; substitutes—Wakefield, Carlin, forwards; DeCortez, guard.

The Alameda squad included: Schmalenburgh, 1; Haslam, 2; forwards; Reed, center; Kent, Madokoro, 7; guards; Substitute, Bruce, forward.

BEAR BOXERS TO MEET CARDS FEB. 14

BERKELEY, Jan. 29.—Opening what Coach Stanley Jones expects to be the most successful boxing season ever engaged in by the University of California, the Bears will meet Stanford University at Palo Alto on Feb. 14 with a team of veterans. Ted Beckett will attempt to clinch the heavyweight job again. Other letter winners from last year's team are Al Dubecker, lightweight; Wilbur Kindig, light weight; George Sherwood, middleweight; Coach Jones yesterday reassured the following lineup of men who are working out:

Other results:
Natie Brown won in the fifth round when Danny Lehnard was disqualified; Jack Noonon defeated Tony Randolph in six rounds; Louis O'Neill technically knocked out Jimmy McMasters in the second; Joe Racer knocked out Pete Varoff in the third round and Benny Lancy knocked out Jack Corwall in the third.

CARNERA GETS READY FOR BATTLE

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Quite the most important fight magnet who has been here since Jack Dempsey was in his prime, Primo Carnera, rapidly is nearing perfect condition for his fight Friday night with Elzer Rioux, a Canadian of more or less doubtful pugilistic ability.

Following the usual routine of road work shadow boxing and sparring Carnera has attracted capacity crowds. He amazed the crowd with his speed. Owing, perhaps, the biggest pair of feet in captivity Carnera does not allow them to slow him up. How he dances nimbly around the ring is a mystery, but he does it.

He expects to weigh around 270 pounds when he steps into the ring with Rioux, who has finally found a man bigger than he is. The Canadian tips the scale near 350 pound mark and is six feet three inches tall.

Y. M. D. CAGERS WILL MEET S. F.

The sensational Richmond Y. M. D. quintet is due to clash with the San Francisco Y. M. D. sometime during the coming week in the semi-finals of Y. M. C. A. California competition in basketball. A definite date has not been set for the game, which will be played at San Francisco.

If Richmond is successful in this contest it will journey to San Jose where it will meet the winner of the San Joaquin valley section several weeks later. Richmond won the right to meet San Francisco by swamping the Oakland Y. M. D. Tuesday night.

The outlook for the local athletes is particularly hopeful, for they have undoubtedly established their supremacy on this side of the bay.

BOXING BOARD BANS FILIPINO FIGHTERS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—The temporary ban on boxing bouts in which Filipinos engage with white fighters was upheld by William Hanlon, chairman of the California Athletic commissioners tonight in the face of opposition from another commissioner, Chas. Traung.

Traung, in Los Angeles, issued a statement opposing Hanlon's order against such mixed bouts, and claimed Hanlon had no right to make it without authority of the commission.

"We have received nothing but applause since the order was issued today," Hanlon told the United Press.

"It was simply a precautionary measure asking that bouts between Filipinos and whites would not be booked while people are in the mood they are at present."

The order was made because race riots have occurred in northern California.

In reply to Traung's statement that arenas in the San Francisco bay region had been carefully guarded by police, Hanlon said:

"He must have anticipated something when he went to the chief of police and asked for guards. Why didn't he call out the soldiers from the Presidio?"

Hanlon claimed that only a week ago orders had been sent to Joe Maloney, assistant to Traung, to cancel a bout in which a Filipino was to have engaged at San Jose.

HANLON ACTION WINS APPROVAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—(U.P.)—James Woods, one of three members of the state athletic commission said here tonight he would abide by the temporary ban on Filipino boxers in southern California, his district.

"On first impulse I thought it was a good ruling," Woods said. He went on to say that as a matter of courtesy Commissioner William Hanlon might have conferred with the other members of the commission before he issued the order.

Judge Alstrom To Arrange Golf Tourney For Elks

Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom has been named by the Richmond and Berkeley lodges of Elks. Alstrom stated yesterday that an effort will be made to have the matches played at the Carquinez Golf club instead of at the Berkeley country club as in the past.

Last year the Berkeley club defeated the local golfers by a narrow margin. This year the local players have high hopes of winning a victory.

It is expected that the matches will be started within the next two or three weeks.

SCOUTS READY FOR BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Boy Scouts of Richmond are busy this week, preparing to join with the more than seven hundred Boy Scouts of Contra Costa county in celebrating Boy Scout Anniversary Week, beginning Friday, Feb. 7, and closing Feb. 13. Each of the thirty-three Boy Scout troops in the county will unite with Boy Scouts throughout the United States in special exercises for the week. Practically the entire nation will participate in this event.

"Each year, Anniversary Week of the Boy Scout movement is more widely observed than the year before," said J. D. Keith of Crockett, president of the Contra Costa Council of Boy Scouts, in speaking of plans for a county-wide observance of the week. "The Boy Scouts of America were incorporated on Feb. 8, 1910, so this year we will celebrate the Twentieth Anniversary of Scouting in this country. The week has special significance for every Boy Scout, and Scout leaders are glad to observe that this significance is being recognized in each community supporting a Scout troop."

"The Council hopes parents, teachers, sponsoring organizations and business men in each community will take a real interest in the activities of the week. These programs are full of meaning for the Scout, since, during the week, he assembles with his Troop, to recollect himself to the Scout Oath and Law. They have a special significance for the public, too, since at this time, Scouts put on special programs designed to bring definitely to the attention of each community the value of Scouting as a means of developing character in boys and giving them active training for citizenship."

"While each scout organization builds its own program for the week," continued Keith, "two features will be emphasized by Contra Costa troops this year. These are mobilization and father and son activities. Each troop will, if possible, assemble on mobilization day, which is Saturday, Feb. 8, for the impressive Scout oath and law. This is a nation-wide mobilization, and troops unable to assemble on that day will mobilize on some other day during the week. Many troops are planning father and son hikes and dinners. Letters are also being sent to all church leaders throughout the county giving them data on the Boy Scout movement for use in sermons or brief talks from the pulpit on Scout Sunday, Feb. 9. During the week we hope to make each community in Contra Costa county Scout-minded."

The Council also suggests that merchants in towns having Scout troops may find it worth while to put on special Scout window displays during Anniversary Week. VETS SUPPORT WORLD PEACE MOVE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Jan. 29.—The American Legion's move to promote world peace, as given in a recent appeal by O. L. Bodinhamer, national commander, is considered to be responsible for a rapid increase in the national membership of the Legion for the week ending Jan. 17, reported to Washington by National Headquarters in order to be available for the information of representatives and senators. The report shows that in one week, more than 37,000 veterans were added to the Legion's hundreds of thousands of paid up members.

The national commander called upon the ex-service men of the country to strengthen the ranks of the Legion at this time as an indication of their earnestness in supporting the Legion effort to enact a fundamental principle of peace and national defense into the law of the land. This principle is "equal service for all in time of war, and special privilege or profit to none."

"The existence of the universal draft plan," the national commander said, "would tend to retard the declaration of war against us, and by us. Since it would be faced with inevitable defeat, there would be no nation which would desire to declare war against the United States. The existence of such a plan would tend to retard the declaration of war by our own country, except when absolutely necessary, because it would take all profit out of war."

The Legion is urging the adoption of the Reed-Wainwright resolution in Congress. This resolution provides for the creation of a commission of representatives and senators and competent representatives of labor, capital, the industries and other elements of our national life and business, to study this principle, and report a definite measure to be submitted to Congress.

Nearly every state, or department, in the Legion organization, is responding to the appeal, and it is anticipated that the largest membership at this time of year in the history of the organization will continue to grow until the universal draft principle is passed by Congress. The Legion is depending upon this continued increase for the success of the legislation.

A $1.25 to Rid Your Home of Moths May Save You Hundreds of Dollars.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

DAM MEETING ENVOYS SPLIT

RENO, Jan. 29.—UP—The problem of dividing water from the proposed Boulder dam remained stationary at the conference of states here today while action from the California delegation was waited.

Representatives of California were to meet late tonight to determine a definite course and their decision was regarded as the most important development of the conference. All delegates indicated that an open conference of groups on California, Arizona and Nevada might be held Thursday morning. The belief that there had been a split in the California delegation was prevalent. A great deal of hope was placed in the ability of H. E. Heffner to rejoin the delegation. Although he represents California, Heffner is an Arizona cattleman and has many friends in that delegation.
